A PERSON OF 30 may secure Rs. 1,000 at Death by a yearly payment of Rs. 27-4 during life. The Premium would generally elsewhere secure Rs. 800 only instead of Rs. 1,000,

OR, if unwilling to burden himself with payments during his whole life, he may secure the same sum of Rs. 1,000 by twenty yearly payments of Rs. 36, being thus free of Premiums before age 50, this premium being about the same as most Offices require during the whole term of life,

OR, if preferring to make provision for his old age or for his family in case of death, he may secure the same sum of Rs. 1,000 payable at age 55 or death by yearly payments of Rs. 39-11.

TO PROFESSIONAL MEN AND OTHERS

Whose income is dependent upon health the Limited Payment System or Endowment Assurance is specially recommended.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

This is the age of research and experiment, when all nature, so to speak, is ransacked by the scientific for the comfort and happiness of man. Science has indeed made giant strides during the past century, and among the many important and important discoveries in medicine comes that of Therapion, particulars of which will be found in another column. Therapion is unquestionably one of the most genuine and reliable Patent Medicines ever introduced, and has, we understand, been used in the Continental Hospitals by Pasteur, Koch, Lister, Jobert, Velpeau, Maisonneuve, the well-known Chassaignac, and indeed by all those who are regarded as authorities in such matters, including the celebrated Lallemand, and Roux, by whom it was some time since uniformly tested, and that it is worthy the attention of those who require such a remedy we think there is no doubt. From the time of Aristotle downwards, as a remedy for the removal of these diseases has (like the famed philosopher's stone) been the object of search of some hopeful, generous minds; and far beyond the mere power—if such could ever have been discovered—of transmuting the baser metals into gold is surely the discovery of a remedy so potent as to replenish the failing energies of the confirmed rout in the one case, and in the other so effectually, speedily and safely to expel from the system without the aid, or even the knowledge, of a second party, the poisons acquired or inherited disease (all) their protean forms as to leave no taint or trace behind. Such is The New French Remedy Therapion, which may certainly rank with, if not take precedence of, many of the discoveries of our day, about which no little ostentation and noise have been made, and the extensive and ever-increasing demand that has been created for this medicine wherever introduced appears to prove that it is destined to consign into oblivion all those questionable remedies that were formerly the sole reliance of medical men. Therapion may be obtained in England, direct from the proprietor, and of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the Colonies and India, China, Japan, &c., not even excepting such remote districts as Central Africa, the Fiji Islands, St. Helena, &c.—Diamond Field Advertiser, KIMBERLEY.

VETARZO BRAIN AND NERVE FOOD.

This remarkable compound, the result of the latest developments and achievements of modern chemistry, pharmacology, and therapeutics, is without equal in all cases of defective nerve power, whether induced by worry, over-work, unhealthy climate, dissipation, excess, youthful imprudence, or other influences incidental to the wear and tear and hasty or overstrain of modern life. Sleeplessness, tremblings, palpitation, nervous dyspepsia, low spirits, mental and bodily prostration, muscular and local weakness, general and nervous debility, faulty nutrition, premature decay or deficiency of the vital forces, impaired vitality, harassing dreams, night disturbances, sudden startings, dimness of sight, defective hearing, loss of memory, inability to perform the various duties of life, or to enjoy its pleasures, restlessness that can settle to nothing, irritability of temper, female complaints, hysteria, painful periods, backache, bearing down sensations, nervous headache, wasting disease, night sweats, and all other phases of brain and nerve exhaustion are successfully combated by this highly scientific preparation. Bracing up the system generally, it gives tone to the exhausted nerves, arrests all weakening wasting discharges, involuntary losses, &c., restores the failing energies and imparts new life and vigour to what had so recently seemed worn out, "used up," and valueless.

VETARZO BLOOD MEDICINE.

Never before was there anything like it, nor can its marvellous properties ever be equalled in all cases of poorness, impurity, or other imperfection of the blood from whatever cause arising. No matter is it imbibed into the system than it permeates and penetrates to the minutest capillaries, overcoming and expelling the virus of disease wheresoever and in whatsoever form met with; removing all blotches, pimples, scurf, scurvy, scrofulous and glandular swellings, discolorations, roughness, and unsightly patches, &c. Its effects are almost magical in the treatment of gout, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, pains and swellings of the joints, discharges, secondary symptoms, eczema, lepra, psoriasis, bad legs, bad breasts, abscesses, ulcers, sores, goitre or derbyshire neck, &c. It improves the general health, and quickly removes long-standing bronchitis, asthma, and hacking, straining, spasmodic cough, too often the precursor of consumption.

CAUTION.—Ask for "VETARZO Brain and Nerve Food," or VETARZO Blood Medicine," whichever is required, and see that you get them, as unprincipled vendors often try to palm off inferior preparations usually their own manufacture, for the sake of extra profit. Price in England, 2/9 and 4/6. Every genuine bottle of these medicines bears the British Government Stamp with the words "VETARZO REMEDIES" impressed thereon in white letters on a red ground, by direction of His Majesty's Hon. A COLONIAL CLERGYMAN

Follows Popular Custom—

A significant sign of the times is the cordial manner in which responsible people of all creeds and conditions support the views which are ably set forth below by the Rev. Geo. B. Taylor, a Colonial Clergyman. In words of unstinted praise this gentleman says emphatically that all the social, mental and ecclesiastical work of his position is only made possible by periodical doses of Phosferine, which repairs the Nervous Waste his system suffers under West Indian conditions of life. Men of Intellect, and Men of Muscle alike, vouch for the amazing restorative power of Phosferine in all cases of Nerve Disorder or Irregularities, and with Rulers and People of many lands, it is an established and Popular Custom to rebuild and re-inforce the Nervous System with a course of Phosferine.

Which He Strongly Supports.

Rev. Geo. B. Taylor, St. Luke's Parsonage, Barbados, writes :—"I have, for a considerable time past, used your Phosferine with very great benefit to mind and body, and especially is this the case on Sundays, when I always have three Services and Sunday School, and frequently Open-air Services as well, with Baptism twice a month, besides a good deal of work during the week, such as instructing in Schools, Conducting Mission Services in School Houses, Regular Weekly Services and Daily Services, besides a good deal of other duties which fall to the Pastor of a large Congregation. I always take two or more doses of Phosferine on Sunday and on other days when I have any mental work to do, and particularly when I have any heavy brain work to discharge, I always fortify myself with your world renowned Tonic, and I assure you I have often been considerably assisted in my Sermons—both the preparation and delivery—and in the nervous strain which a long day's work entails. I may add that I always recommend it to my friends. Acting on my advice a lady tried it a short time ago who suffered from sleeplessness and nervous debility, and she informs me that she has derived considerable benefit from it."—Oct. 8, 1904

The Royal Example.

Phosferine is used by the Royal Families of Europe, which, in plain language means that every user of Phosferine knows and feels that the Tonic is commended by the greatest living physicians

BOMBAY, FRIDAY, Nov. 10.

A HOLIDAY feeling has been prevalent in the city throughout the week, in honor of the Royal Visit. No rain has fallen in the growing districts since our last report, and our markets have all been firm in tone. Cotton continues to advance, with occasional set backs, according to advices from the governing markets, and the position of the staple is growing stronger with the adverse reports of the weather in the Cotton belt of the States, and reduced estimates of the crop. In India advices of the crop are not so favourable as they were a few weeks ago, and rumours are current of reduced estimates here, as in the States. An easier tone is prevailing in sterling exchange due to the enormous supplies of Councils, and the large imports of gold from London and Australia, which have eased off the money market. Rupee Paper is consequently steadier, and a fair turn-over is reported in this market. Cotton supplies are freer in the up-country markets and the demand for money for moving crops is slowly increasing, but has not yet assumed any large proportions.

COTTON.

During the week under review the market firmed up considerably, and according to private advices there seems little room for doubt now that the crop has suffered severe damage during the past few weeks. The chief cause thereof is apparently heavy rains after the killing frost advised towards the end of last month. The markets have been very excited and notwithstanding the large stocks an advance of over three farthings per pound was established in Liverpool, since the 17th of last month, after which date the rise commenced. The movement has, of course, been aggravated by the large speculative transactions in the staple, as heavy Bear operations were open, when the adverse crop reports began to circulate. It is more than probable however that these are now closed, and we may see a return swing of the pendulum after the recent rapid rise. But with the large demand for actual consumption throughout the world, a serious decline in the estimates of this season's crop will probably cause a still further advance in the price, and any, permanent fall seems unlikely.

In New Orleans the spot price has advanced to 11 1/3 cents. It is reported that private advices have been received, stating that 6,483,000 Bales have been ginned up to 1st November.

Our local market has followed the rise advised from the other side. At the advanced rates sellers came out to meet the demand, and a considerable business has resulted. Exporters to Europe were the chief buyers both for spot and forward contracts. It is reported that offers are coming from Japan, for consignments made there earlier in the year, at a fair advance on the prices lately obtainable, but we do not hear of much enquiry locally for new crops. The stocks in Japan are large, and will have to be worked off to some extent before a new demand arises. The local mills are also well-supplied for the present, and have not been contracting forward to any large extent, lately.

SEEDS AND WHEAT.

The tone of these markets has generally been steady to firm, but the enquiry has eased off somewhat owing to quieter markets in Europe.

Sundries	"	27,199 Increase
Cash	"	23,59,993 Increase

These figures show a falling off of about 39 1/2 lakhs in the trade demand.

The Bank of Bengal weekly cash balance shows a decline of 74 lakhs and that of the Bank of Madras is down 2 1/2 lakhs. No change is to be recorded in the three Presidency Banks Official rates. The tone of the local market is easy with rates for short fixed deposits the same as last week. There are ample funds available, as the up-country demand for moving crops is scarcely felt, as yet.

EXCHANGE.

The sterling exchange market is quieter, since our last mail report, and Banks have reduced their selling rates by one thirty-second. A moderate enquiry at last week's closing rates was supplied early in the week, but at the close they are not freely quoted. Mercantile paper is offered at a corresponding reduction, but Banks are not keen buyers in view of the state of the London discount market, and the absence of demand for Bank paper at current rates. Far Eastern exchange is steady at our quotation.

BLUTHNER'S
PIANOS ARE IDEAL
PIANOFORTES.

THE BLUTHNER PIANOFORTES must not be classed with the productions by makers who are keen in the battle-royal of competition as to who could produce an inferior Piano at the smallest possible cost. Mr. JULIUS BLUTHNER has secured the World's Highest honours by dint of energy and determination to perfect his productions and to construct Musical Instruments in accordance with the most approved modern standards and requirements worthy of the name of Pianofortes and to sell them at a moderate price which, compared with public waste of money on worthless articles, is not an excessive sum. The Bluthner Pianofortes are the only Instruments which will help to radically change one's whole life in the matter of Music in a few days. The mysterious secret of their wonderful success and their wonderful influence on Musical people is their marvellous Brilliancy, Sweetness and sympathy in Tone. The actions of the Bluthner Pianofortes being soft, easy and uniform, have the effect of rousing the pupil and the musician from careless interest to the highest possible attainment which natural ability warrants. They are the only Pianos specially built for India, possessing soulful music in every string. All musicians regard the time when they started using a Bluthner Pianoforte as the best days of their lives.

MERCHANTMEN AND NAVY.

THE Merchant Service Guild have lately placed themselves in communication with the Admiralty in regard to the salute of one of their members, the Captain of the steamer James Brand being ignored by his Majesty's yacht "Victoria and Albert." The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty requested Commodore Keppel, as Commodore commanding his Majesty's yachts, to make a report on the subject. This report is to the effect that Commodore Keppel has held a searching inquiry into the allegation of the Captain of the "James Brand," it is stated that the Officer of the Watch and the Chief Yeoman of the Signals, who were on deck about the time given, say that the colours of his Majesty's Yacht were dipped, to the best of their belief, to every Merchant Vessel which saluted the yacht, in accordance with Commodore Keppel's orders and the Custom of the Service. It is said that sometimes Merchant Ships dip their Colours three times and it is the usual custom for H. M. Ships to do so only once in acknowledgment, and Commodore Keppel cannot help thinking that on the occasion referred to this was done and was not seen on board the "James Brand," it seemed to him almost incredible that a man could be looking at the "James Brand" through a telescope, and that another could be aft by the Ensign staff without acknowledging her salute. In any case, Commodore Keppel states that he would like to express his most sincere regret to Captain Torrance for the discourtesy of which he believes H M. Yacht under his command was guilty, and to assure him that, at the worst, it was through an oversight, and was in no way intentional.

The Guild in a further letter to the Admiralty stated that they were quite sure that Commodore Keppel would not, for one moment, countenance any act of discourtesy, whether unintentional or otherwise, from a merchant vessel, in support of the allegation of the Captain of the "James Brand" the Guild stated that they had received somewhat remarkable corroboration from the Captain of a steamer in one of the largest mail and passenger lines, who stated that on several occasions he had saluted the Royal Yacht without any answer whatever being given. The Guild pointed out that they had reported a number of similar and constant omissions on the part of Naval ships generally, and that reports of the kind were continuing to come in. They would not trouble the Admiralty on the matter but, as they say, from the fact that it is inducing a certain bad feeling between the two services and to have a very detrimental effect on efficient signalling between them, about which the Admiralty have been so active of late. The Lord Commissioners of the Admiralty thereupon informed the Guild that in view of the assurance given by Commodore Keppel they are of opinion that no further action is called for at present. Sir Evan Macgregor states, however, that the desirability of issuing a general instruction on the matter will be carefully considered, in view to the recommendations of the Committee on signalling between his Majesty's Ships and Merchant Vessels, in whatever form may ultimately be decided on. The Guild in expressing their satisfaction on this point inquired when the Report of the Signalling Committee would be issued, as there appeared to be some delay, and they were anxious to see the recommendations contained in the Report before the notice of their members generally.

ST. THOMAS IN INDIA.

THE claims of Thomas, whose surname was Didymus, to be considered an Anglo-Indian, or at least a noteworthy tourist, are discussed in a volume, issued from the publishing house of Mr. Dutt of Longacre, by the Bishop of Medlycott of Tricomia. The unbeliever, and the plain, prosaic materialist, reincarnations of the Goth and the Vandal, who strike at the foundations of all our most cherished traditions and endeavour to sink the most seaworthy craft of legendary lore, would persuade us that St. Thomas never came to India and never embarked upon an evangelical mission in this country. We may say at once that we believe he did and that we prefer to believe so. Therefore, we welcome Bishop Medlycott's work, which so greatly strengthens the case for St. Thomas. The right reverend author is well aware that his book will fall into the hands of at least two classes of readers; those who, accepting in a general way the ecclesiastical tradition that Thomas the Apostle had preached the Gospel in India, desiderate that the subject should be threshed out and placed on a solid historical basis; others—and these may be the more numerous—who look upon such traditions as legendary and void of foundation and, therefore, give no thought to the subject. The good Bishop who held the former opinion, now offers us the result of his researches on the question. He hopes the treatment of the Apostle's connection with India, submitted, may be of interest to both classes of readers and helpful to the formation of a correct opinion. We believe it will. Bishop Medlycott explains his work. His enquiry opens with the earlier contact of St. Thomas with India, which would fall within the period that may be termed the first tour of his apostolate when he conveyed the glad tidings of the Gospel to the Parthians, as the oldest written record attests. It would have been then that he came into contact with Gondophares, the Parthian, who during the middle of the first century A. D. ruled over Afghanistan and the borderland of India. The writer next discusses the subject more fully in a close examination of all available records supplied by the East and the West having reference to the Apostle and his mission to India, confidently hoping "that the evidence adduced will uphold the truth of the tradition that Thomas suffered martyrdom in India; thence it will follow that his tomb ought to be found in India." In fact the Bishop produces a long chain of witnesses, extending from the sixth century to the landing of the Portuguese on the shores of India, to attest that the tomb was really in Mylapore.

Bishop Medlycott has no difficulty in showing that the remains of the martyred Apostle were removed from India to Edessa in Mesopotamia, where they rested until the city was sacked and destroyed by the rising Moslem power. To remove all doubt as to whether the Apostle Thomas was the first to evangelise India, the claims brought forward on behalf of certain alleged Apostles of India are likewise submitted to a careful scrutiny, and with this, the writer brings to a close the historical part of his enquiry. In the next he discusses that which has come to us, regarding the Apostle in the Acts of Thomas, which "form part of a class of writings, known as the Apocryphal Acts of the Apostles." It had not been, it seems, Bishop Medlycott's original intention to handle this subject separately; but later, it appeared to him advisable to undertake it in order to ascertain what further historical data it might yield beyond that of St. Thomas's contact with King Gondophares; and also because this class of literature has of late years claimed the attention of several scholars, both in England and in Germany. He attaches a good deal of importance to Professor Carl Schmidt's study of the Apocryphal Acts of the Apostles, and he accepts the assertion that the Acts of Thomas were at an early date, extensively interpolated and adapted for doctrinal purposes by certain sects and that this manipulation of the text was carried according to the system employed in the case of an earlier writing, the Acts of the Virgin Protomartyr, Thecla, tending to prove that the Acts of Thomas had an early and independent position. We are asked, and are willing to accept the fact that they embody in a portion of the narrative, which has all the appearance of offering an historical account of events, the mention of usages and customs which are found to be purely Indian and Hindu. This, he thinks would naturally suggest that they cannot be considered as merely legendary; further that they yet retain portions of an original narrative which must have come from India, though this earliest text now bears marks of gross disfigurement as it appears in the text and versions.

The contention that Thomas, a disciple of Manes, has been mistaken in India for St. Thomas the Apostle, Bishop Medlycott disposes of effectually. He shows that not only did the Manes Thomas never come to In ia, but that there are no grounds to all for asserting that he did. And the Bishop does so in language which is quite unmistakable. Says he: "St Epiphanius, the bishop of Constantia, in Cyprus, A.D. 315-402, has fortunately left us a very full and complete account of the tenets of Manes, an arch-propagator of falsehood. These tenets wrought for a long time much mischief and loss to the Church and were the cause of large numbers of her members falling away at different periods, seduced by the attraction of a double principle of good and evil, coeval and eternal—a doctrine which seems to have always had a special fascination for weak humanity, since it is found to be a principle permeating nearly all primitive religions." Although the authority of St. Epiphanius does not rank high with some [illegible] they consider he was not sufficiently cautious in accepting and testing the sources of his informa ion. In the case of planes and his disciples, however, Bishop Medlycott is convinced that the summit is beyond reproach, for he specifies his authorities, which are almost all detailed first hand and he largely utilises the contents of the contemporary historical document which fortunately has come down to us, complete, in a Latin translation, while that in Greek, one time much diffused, exists only in fragmentary quotations. The right reverend author proves his contention to the hilt, and whether he did or not would scarcely detract from the value of his work which bears evidence of research as well as of his having drawn upon reason as much as if not more than upon faith to effect his purpose.

MODERN TOWN IMPROVEMENTS.

WE would commend to the notice of the members of the Bombay Improvement Trust the enormous scheme, which is now approaching completion in London, to open up a much needed main line for traffic north and south from Euston road to the Strand. Technically it is known as the Holborn to Strand Improvement, but the piece of the work extending from Theobalds road and running across Holborn along the side of Lincol's Inn Fields through Clare Market to the Strand is the main work completing improvements which were carried out a few years ago to make the new road possible. It were difficult to say which is the most important aspect of the creation of Kingsway and Aldywch, whether it be the provision of a new main artery, the beautifying of London or the abolition of the area of slums which has had to give way to London's latest acquisition. It is not necessary here to enter into any details as to the cost of the work involved. The expense to the ratepayers has been enormous, as it must be in every case where the acquisition of large areas is concerned, but there is not the slightest doubt of its immediate beneficial effect. The neighbourhood of Clare Market and the by—ways off Drury Lane were as much a disgrace to London as are many of its areas to Bombay. The Improvement Trust has done something towards cleaning these neighbourhoods, but much more remains to be done. The opening of the Princess Street by the Prince and Princess of Wales is comparable to the opening of Kingsway by His Majesty. But Princess Street by no means exhausts the requirements of Bombay. Much remains to be done, more than has been done in the past and it is safe to predict that the work which will occupy the attention of the Trust in the future will prove far more difficult than that which it has already accomplished. In his address to the King the Chairman of the London County Council pointed out that they took pride in the fact that while the new street has caused the demolition of much undesirable property, the inhabitants displaced have been provided with healthier and better houses in the working class dwellings in which the King has shown such a sympathetic interest. The traffic difficulty in Bombay is nil compared with that of London, but the provision of suitable living places is quite as great. The decentralisation which has taken place in London has only been capable of being carried out by the greatest attention being paid to facilities for transit. This is one of the chief matters to be considered in Bombay. It is impossible to extend this city to any vast extent, but there is sufficient land left to allow of the opening up of congested areas by making available outlying districts. But this can be done only if proper transit facilities are offered. A not insignificant duty of the Improvement Trust is to see that rents are not allowed to rise to such an extent as to make any further upward tendency in the cost of living in the city. The circumscribed area of the island makes it difficult to keep living expenses in any way equal to those upcountry, where land is readily available, and if the development of the existing unoccupied areas is left to private enterprise the upward tendency of rents will increase year by year until they are out of all proportion to the means of the poorer classes. The retention of newly developed areas in official hands will also afford the best means possible for the prevention of overcrowding and the impossibility of finding living room for a population greater than the requirements of the city will do much to end the haphazard immigration to the city which, if allowed to continue unchecked, will eventually give rise to the serious problem of the unemployed. All these points call for the most careful consideration and, while the conditions are somewhat different in detail, yet the Bombay Improvement Trust will do well to study the methods of London where the County Council is successfully grappling with the same problem and is carrying out its improvements in a manner which a decade since was laughed at as impossible.

IMPURITIES IN INDIAN WHEAT.

AT the recent International Congress of Millers, held in Paris, a resolution as our readers are aware, was passed requesting the Government of India to prevent the export of grain mixed with sand and clay. When Lord Cross was Secretary of State in India, he gave considerable attention to this subject and presided over a representative conference convened by him to consider what measures should be taken to remedy the evil complained of. Our London correspondent says he happened, the other day, to meet a distinguished expert who was called in to advise Lord Cross and asked him his opinion with reference to the action of the Paris Congress. "I really think" he said "that the subject is so important that a small commission should be sent out to India at once to inquire into the matter with a view to something being done. You ask me what I would recommend? Well, I have not time now to go fully into the question and besides I am not now personally interested in the trade, but I think that a beginning should be made by abolishing the practice of making a deduction of 4 per cent impurities. I am told that owing to this custom the native seller will add impurities if there are none previously present. But what India requires most of all in my judgment is a system of centres where wheat can be collected and graded as in America. The American plan is admirable and I see no reason why it should not be introduced into India with the same excellent results. I have lately seen some samples of Bombay wheat grown in Egypt on the lands known as the Domains and they are magnificent—one could not wish to see better. Formerly Egyptian wheat was very bad—India must look to its laurels." The suggestion of an inquiry on the spot by one or two recognised authorities from home seems reasonable and may be commended to the notice of the various Indian Chambers of Commerce. If they approve of the idea and recommend that it be carried out, their representations would no doubt have great weight with the Government.

THE PORTS OF THE WORLD.

A difficulty which is sure to arise with the growing size of liners is discussed in the current number of "Engineering." There are only three ports in the world which are accessible at all states of the tide to a vessel of 30ft. draught, which is becoming a not uncommon dimension. They are Marseilles, Genoa, and Tacoma. Of the greater ports of the world Toulon, Liverpool, Southampton New York, San Francisco, and Quebec could be reached under moderate restrictions but all other ports would be eit er rarely accessible or not accessible at all. The vessel could only reach the docks at Barry at high water generally, and those at Havre, Hull, Cardiff, and Avonmouth at high water of spring tides, and of a few heaps. Glasgow, Rusden, Antwerp, and Boston (U. S. A.) would also be temporarily accessible, but at low water of certain tides the vessel would be stranded alongside the quays, with results which would certainly be serious and might easily prove disastrous. She might just—though it is doubtful—achieve a passage to Amsterdam. On the other hand, she could never hope to arrive at either Hamburg, Bremen, Rotterdam. The case of Hamburg is deplorable in the extreme. The Elbe does not afford a draught greater than 27ft. on an ordinary tide.

THE Official account of the Tour in India of their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales will be written by Sir Walter Lawrence, K.C.I.E., Chief of the Prince's Staff. The work will contain the only authoritative record of this memorable journey through the Indian Empire, while the various territories visited will suggest a comprehensive survey of their condition, and a discussion of many important problems connected with their Government and administration, for which Sir Walter Lawrence's long experience of Indian affairs has eminently fitted him. Thus the work may be expected to form a standard book of reference for many years to come. It will be published in two handsome, finely illustrated volumes by Mr. Edward Arnold, 41 and 43 Maddox Street, London, Publisher to H. M. Secretary of State for India in Council, as soon as possible after the conclusion of the Royal Tour.

SPEECH BY MR. BALFOUR.

EFFORTS TOWARDS PEACE.

REVIEW OF THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Nov. 9.

Mr. Balfour at the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guildhall, to-night, began his speech by a lengthy statement regarding the unemployed problem and dwelt upon the difficulty of finding a remedy which would not do more harm than good. He appealed to public benevolence, and especially to that of those present, to support the machinery provided by Government.

From Korea to Morocco, he said there is a succession of States, which may cause difficulty to the civilised Powers and it is the object of diplomacy to prevent a conflict there. This is not easy as the less civilised nations cannot be left alone owing to competition for markets.

Peace is to be maintained by arrangements between civilised countries themselves, and not by the less civilised playing one civilised nation off against another.

He referred to Japan, our new ally, the great Power arisen in the Far East.

It was a happy time, he said, to survey foreign politics, when our allies were beginning the great mission of civilization.

Our friends in Russia were absorbing public interest by a great movement in the direction of self-Government and all Great Britain wished the Tsar and his advisers success of and hoped the future would not be sullied by horrible scenes marring its initial progress.

He dwelt upon the efforts of Great Britain during the past ten years to render war impossible, and to develop arbitration. He pointed out that no boundary question in Africa or elsewhere was likely to produce friction, and was sanguine that we should not see war in future unless a ruler arises trampling on the rights of neighbours with a view to national aggrandisement. But, he added, there is no prospect of such a calamity in Europe. He concluded by prophesying a long peace, comparing himself with Pitt who, a century ago, prophesied a long war, but added that, though happier than our forefathers, we must be prepared for any emergency and make sacrifices on behalf of the defensive forces of the Empire.

THE ATROCITIES AGAINST RUSSIAN JEWS.

Troops Joining the Mob.

The authorities at Kishineff have deliberately organised the rabble against the Jews, giving the roops a pretext for unbridled massacre and pillage lasting two days.

Seventy were killed and 180 wounded, all being Jews.

The mob at Ismail arranged an "auto da fe" burning alive eleven Jews, who had taken refuge in a haystack. Fifty-nine Jews were killed at Kalarasch.

Similar stories continue to be received from other towns in Bessarabia.

The soldiers and sailors at Cronstadt have joined the workmen in sacking, pillaging and burning. Desperate fighting has taken place between the Loyalists and the Revolutionaries. Pools of blood are in the streets. The inhabitants are fleeing.

The warships have been ordered out of the harbour.

It is reported that a force of Lancers sent from Peterhof has joined the rioters.

In view of the possibility of further disturbances at Odessa, the German, Austrian and Italian Consuls, have requested their Governments to send guardships from Constantinople to Odessa.

RESIGNATION OF GENERAL TREPOFF.

Another Appointment Made.

Yielding to the popular demand General Trepoff has resigned.

He has been appointed Commandant of the Palace Troops.

LONDON, Nov. 10.

The Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholievitch has replaced the Grand Duke Vladimir in the Command of the St. Petersburg Military District.

THE MUTINY AT CRONSTADT.

The mutinous soldiers and sailors at Cronstadt, who number five thousand, killed ten of their officers who were unpopular.

Two Squadrons of Hussars and two Battalions of the crack Preobrajensky Regiment have arrived at Cronstadt.

Reuter's correspondent who has reached Cronstadt found the mutiny quelled; the most reliable troops now vigorously control the town. The survivors of the mutineers have been arrested.

THE COMING NAVAL MANŒUVRES.

Japan's Position with the World.

The "Standard" says that theoretically the Japanese Navy will form part of the scheme of World-wide Naval Manœuvres in 1906.

It is assumed that the situation is threatening, and that the Anglo-Japanese Navies are watching the enemies' ships throughout the world. Later on war breaks out. A skeleton enemy of cruisers leaves England with secret orders, and will keep every one on the alert for weeks.

POSTAL PEONS' STRIKE.

SERIOUS OUTLOOK IN CALCUTTA.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Nov. 10.

Some 300 peons and runners of the General Post Office and the Cossipore, Harrison Road and Bowbazar Post offices, struck work yesterday. A month ago, these men submitted a petition to the Post-Master-General asking for increased wages, and were told to apply in a more becoming form. The strike yesterday was a sudden development of affairs, and deliveries were made under much difficulty. An extensive strike is feared to-day, although some of the men returned to work last evening.

GIRLS' SCHOOLS IN INDIA.

ACTION OF THE PUNJAB GOVERNMENT.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, Nov. 10.

The Punjab Government are seriously taking up the improvement of the Auckland School, Simla. A grant has been made to enable it to start fairly under the management of Miss Strong, late Principal of the Baker Street School, London, who has come out from England with a highly trained staff of Assistants to Manage it, and there seems to be a prospect of India at last having an institution where well born girls can receive an education comparable to that in the best schools at home.

ENGLISH POLITICAL AND SOCIAL LETTER.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Oct. 27.

THE LIBERALS AND FOREIGN POLICY.

Sir Edward Grey's recent important statement in the City, plainly intimating to all whom it may concern that if the Liberals come into power, there will not, as some of our rivals have hoped, be any discontinuity of foreign policy, has not secured the Liberals a victory at Hampstead. It has, however, given immense satisfaction to those who place country before party and has moreover reconciled many timid representatives of the more solid classes of the community to the prospect of those "dreadful Reds" becoming responsible for the Government. By the way, the "dreadful Reds" when the Liberals have been in office in the past did not exactly rule the roost, and considering how much influence the still remaining aristocratic element in the Liberal party exercises, I do not suppose the next Liberal Government will materially differ in composition from its predecessors. But to return to Sir E. Grey's endorsement of the Japanese Treaty, and the "entente cordiale" with France—very greatly strengthened as all admit by the completely successful visit of the Paris Municipal Council—I must quote what the "Times" says on the subject. "His declarations" the leading Journal observes "will be read with all the attention they deserve, and with a genuine satisfaction that will be felt far outside the limits of his own party. Sir Edward Grey's claim to knowledge in such matters has long been generally admitted; and now that Lord Rosebery has openly divested himself of responsibility for the doings of his party, he may fairly be regarded as the most authoritative exponent of Liberal opinion in this sphere. It will be noticed that yesterday, while speaking with great candour, he steadily maintained this representative attitude. On none of the main and leading questions does he dissociate himself from his party; and, though solidarity in foreign affairs has not always been the party's characteristic, it may be asserted that the views which Sir Edward Grey has expressed are those which will govern the conduct of foreign policy by a Liberal Government, should the electors of this country place such a Government in power. Over and above his representative position, his treatment of these topics is clear, systematic, and exhaustive. He did not shrink yesterday from touching on questions of undoubted delicacy, but his handling of them was perfectly straightforward and unexceptionable. It is, we imagine, a considerable time since a speaker in Opposition has been able to endorse the foreign policy of the Government so fully and in such vital particulars." Although as I have indicated there were nervous people here to be reassured the above remarks of the Times and more to the same effect are evidently intended for foreign rather than home consumption. The "Morning Post" writes in a similar strain and tells Conservative orators of the platitudinous and empty-headed type to cease their cackle about the danger of all Lord Lansdowne's wise arrangements being upset if the present Ministry are defeated at the polls. Mr. Broderick did well no doubt, at Guildford last night, to deprecate a quarrel with Germany, but he need not have lectured the journalists in quite such a lofty manner. The public may be innocent, but it is not quite so innocent as Mr. Brodrick supposes it to be. We may be willing to admit that Prince von Bulow was not responsible for the attack made on our King and Lord Lansdowne by an Austrian journal, which is known to enjoy the confidence of the Berlin Foreign office but to ask us to believe that all the suggestions of misunderstandings which have been the talk of Europe for weeks past are entirely gratuitous attacks (sic) which ought to lubricate the pens of some pressmen is too absurd, even I should have thought for the simple folk of that sleepy hollow Guildford.

THE NELSON CELEBRATION.

The fears entertained that the demonstrations organised for the commemoration of the Centenary of Trafalgar, one of the greatest events in our history and the greatest in what may be called our modern times, might somehow give rise to misunderstandings across the Channel have happily not been realised. The French have behaved splendidly in the matter and the outcome has really been favorable to the entente inasmuch as it gave an opportunity to express admiration not only for the man who made us what as a nation we are, but for the brave foes whom he conquered. The bulk of the Members of the Paris Municipal Council left London on Saturday morning before the real work of the never-to-be forgotten day commenced, but one at least of our visitors remained behind and as I can personally testify assisted as a spectator at the ceremony in Trafalgar Square without having his feelings as a patriotic Frenchman hurt in the slightest degree. When one saw the almost interminable lines of people on Sunday quietly and patiently waiting their turn to pass before the Column to see the decorations and wreath, keenly interested but magnificently restrained, it was impossible to avoid the reflection that if not in years, in other respects we are far removed from Mafeking Day. Everybody connected with the organisation of this tribute to Nelson's memory is to be congratulated, but it is a question whether it is necessary to garland the famous monument every year. The people of England are never likely to forget Trafalgar or their most beloved notable hero. Might not our efforts sometimes be directed towards rescuing from oblivion the names of worthies who ought not, but are forgotten?

EUROPEANS AND "HOLLANDERS."

Why is it that in India all non-Asiatics, or to be more accurate all white people are styled Europeans and not English, German or French as the case may be? This has always struck me as being rather strange considering that with comparatively few exceptions all the white people in India are of one nationality, but perhaps the explanation is to be found in a remark made to me by an enlightened Zoroastrian now visiting for the first time, I believe, this country. "It is very difficult for us in India to distinguish the Englishman from the German and the Frenchman from the Italian—all are Europeans to us." The remark of my Parsee friend, a gentleman well-known in various parts of Western India, recalled a passage in Sir John Strachey's "India." "I have been told by intelligent natives of India who have visited Europe" writes that brilliant ex-official "that they could see little difference between the European countries through which they had travelled; the languages being equally unintelligible offered to them no marks of distinction; the cities, the costume, the habits of life, the manners and customs of the people, so far as a passing Oriental traveller could judge, seemed much the same in England, in France and in Italy." He goes on to observe:—"The differences between the countries of India, between, for instance, Bengal and the Punjab or between Madras and Rajputana seemed to them, on the other hand, immense, and beyond comparison greater than those existing between the countries of Europe. Englishmen" Sir J. Strachey shrewdly adds "have often similar impressions in visiting India; they cannot see the great diversities that exist." Such, however we may hope will not be the experience of the Prince of Wales. With the aid of Sir Walter Lawrence and others to whom the differences between the various races occupying the various countries called India are as familiar as the differences between Frenchmen and Germans are to us at home, his Royal Highness's impressions of his future Asiatic subjects are not likely to be those of the cold-weather tourister alluded to by Sir John Strachey. A propos I met at the house of a distinguished London hostess a few days, a very agreeable Japanese lady who has come to England to complete her studies in one of the famous colleges for the higher education of women. She has been here about 18 months and speaks English very fairly. I asked her by what generic name white skinned people in Japan were called by natives of the Mikado's Empire. She replied that formerly they were always styled "Hollanders" whatever nation they belonged to, but now they are more generally called "foreigners" or "Westerners." I was anxious to learn something from her about Bushido (pronounced like the English words Bushy-doe) and she described it as a code of ethics. The highest of the principles it inculcated she said was fidelity to Emperor and country and next duty towards one's parent. The latter, she said, was placed above the love of husband for wife and vice versa, this and more that she said seemed rather to clash with the scriptural injunction. "Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother and shall cleave unto his wife." But she said the herself had become a convert to Christianity and she had found nothing in Bushido that interfered with her being a good Christian; it was rather the other way. Christianity, in short, was complementary to and strengthened the moral precepts of Bushido.

THE MOOLTAN.

The new steamer Mooltan the finest and most powerful vessel of the P. and O. Company's great fleet has just completed a most successful trial trip, and will start from the Thames for Bombay next Friday. Those who were entertained on board the Mooltan from Saturday to Monday speak very highly of her, and I have, no doubt, that she will prove a great attraction when she arrives off the Apollo Bunder towards the end of November.

CEREMONY AT PRINCESS STREET.

TYPICAL NATIVE GREETINGS.

OPENING OF THE PEOPLE'S FAIR.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ROYAL VISIT.

LONDON, Nov. 10.

All the newspapers emphasize the imperial significance of the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to India.

The "Times" remarks that they represent permanent authority of the British Empire and remind the people that great Viceroys and renowned Generals come and go, but the Government of India remains and that mistakes, if made, are not irrevocable.

RECEPTION OF NATIVE CHIEFS.

Yesterday from half-past two o'clock, there was an animated scene of at Government House, on the occasion of the visits of a number of Native Chiefs to his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. A deputation on behalf of Government met each Chief, and as they drove up at intervals and in order of sequence. The resplendent costumes of the Chiefs themselves and their attendants, the splendidly caparisoned equipages the bright and multi-coloured uniforms of the escorts, produced an effect which was at once picturesque and thoroughly typical of Oriental splendour and magnificence. Salutes, both on arrival and departure of the several Chiefs, were fired from the quick-firers placed on Malabar Hill. DRIVE THROUGH THE NATIVE TOWN.

The first look around our City by Their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales was taken yesterday afternoon, and doubtless the most interesting part of the route taken by the Royal Party was through the native part of the town, where Bombay was seen as it really should be seen. The seething mass of humanity on the Bhendi Bazaar and Kalbadevi Roads, flanked either side, on the footpaths and on imposing structures to get a glimpse of Their Royal Highnesses, most of them not having had the remotest chance on the day of Their Royal Highness' arrival to do so. An attractive feature was the quaint mixture of the various oriental costumes which must have given a faint idea of the multifarious classes, castes and creeds that form the population of Bombay.

The procession started from Government House, Malabar Point, and came driving at a rapid pace through the lower gates into Walkeswar and along Chowpatty road. On approaching the corner of French Road a halt was made. Here the trustees of the Babula Temple had erected a special dais which was very tastefully decorated with bunting, and Their Royal Highnesses were here presented with exquisite bouquets, and some poems in the vernacular were recited on behalf of the Hindu community welcoming Their Royal Highnesses to India's shores. Those present here, included Sir Balchandra Krishna and Mr. Dwarkadas Dharamsey and others. The Royal party then drove past the French Bridge and entered the Girgaum Road. On reaching Wadia's Agiary another halt was made and bouquets were presented on behalf of the Parsee community of Bombay. Their Royal Highnesses throughout the above route were accorded the same ovation by the large masses gathered on either side of the street as they were greeted with on the day of the landing. Every coign of vantage along the route, even house-tops, was lined with an eager crowd. The welcome at the Agiary was unique in every sense of the word. On leaving this spot the cortege soon reached "Princess Street," where another halt was made for the Opening Ceremony. After the Ceremony the procession moved into Pleasant Road and thence to Carnac Road, from whence it went on through the Esplanade Road and entered the People's Fair. After driving through the Fair from the western gate and formally declaring it open, Their Royal Highnesses and the party drove out from the eastern gate and wound round the Wandby Road on to the Hornby Road which they passed and entered the narrow and crowded Sheik Memon Street. At the Jumma Masjid another halt was made and Khan Sahib Kazi Mahomed Ali Murghay, J.P., the Kazi of Bombay, welcomed Their Royal Highnesses on behalf of the Mahomedan community—both Shia and Sunni—and presented them with an exquisite bouquet, which Their Royal Highnesses graciously accepted. The procession then turned into the Masjid Bunder Road; whence on reaching the Mumbadevi Temple another halt was made and the native jewellers of Bombay were afforded an opportunity of showing their loyalty by presenting Their Royal Highnesses with a bouquets. Passing the Masjid Bunder Road the cortege went past the Victoria and Prince's Docks, thence over the Elphistone Bridge and on to Chinch Bunder Road. At "Noor Baug" (Graham's Naka), yet another halt was made, and here Mr. Kamadin Ismailkhan Cassum welcomed Their Royal Highnesses on behalf of his Highness the Aga Khan. Floral presentatations on behalf of His Highness were made, and the party then proceeded by Messrs. Adamji Peerbhoy and Sons' factory, which was profusely decorated in honour of the occasion. The procession then went along the Parel Road, past the Jamsetji Jejeebhoy Hospital, and thence through New Nagpada where Their Royal Highnesses had an opportunity of viewing the recent great improvement made by the City Improvement Trust. This locality has been, as it were, transformed from a suffocatingly congested locality into one of the most sanitary areas of the native town. After passing Bellasis Road and Gilder Street the procession moved into Grant Road and crossed the Frere Bridge and then went into Gowalia Tank Road. Turning on to Ridge Road the procession drove straight along and entered Government House through the lower gate.

ORDER OF THE PROCESSION.

The following was the order of the Royal procession in of the Royal Carriage for the drive round the native town:—

and

Brigadier-General Munro. C.B., Commanding Ahmednagar Brigade.

OPENING OF PRINCESS STREET.

Yesterday afternoon T. R. H. the Prince and Princess of Wales performed the ceremony of opening the new street at Chandanwady, which has been named Princess Street.

This is the first important Street Scheme undertaken by the Board. Its objects are: (1) to open up a wide passage through an area thickly crowded with houses by which the fresh westerly breezes from the sea can penetrate into this southern portion of the city; (2) to incidentally clear several very insanitary areas and lay out fresh sites for buildings to be erected under restrictions and regulations which will ensure sanitary conditions; (3) to provide a new thoroughfare for traffic. The Scheme was notified in December 1898 and was sanctioned by Government in January 1901. Acquisition of properties was commenced in September 1901 and the first house was demolished in November 1901. Road-construction was commenced in March 1904, and the new building sites on the completed portion are now being offered to the public on long leases. The estimated gross cost of the scheme is about £550,000, and the net cost to the city, after the new building sites have all been disposed of, is expected to approximate to £8,000.

The whole street was decorated for the occasion with Venetian poles, and festoons of flags, trophies and cross bannerets, with Chinese lanterns suspended at intervals. Rows of chairs, four and five deep, had been arranged in the footpaths, leading from Lohar Chawl to Chandanwady, but without any protection from the rays of the sun.

Long before the arrival of Their Royal Highnesses, in front of the marble tablet which will henceforth mark an historic point of Princess Street, considerable crowds had collected. every available point of vantage being occupied by sightseers whose beaming faces told the story of their gladness at the presence of the Heir-Apparent. Almost immediately opposite the tablet was suspended a banner inscribed "We Parsees pray that the consecrated fire of the heart of the British Empire burn brightly and flourish for ever."

On the south side of the road near the stopping point the members the Board of the City Improvement Trust were gathered, and opposite to them were assembled the members of the Bombay Corporation. A large number of invitations had been issued, the following being the full list:

The appearance of Their Royal Highnesses, who were accompanied by Sir Walter Lawrence, was greeted with enthusiastic acclamation. The Royal carriage with outriders was preceded by various contingents of British and native troops including the P. Battery of the Royal Horse Artillery from Mhow, the 33rd Light Cavalry, the Imperial Service Troops; and the 10th Hussars, General Sir Archibald Hunter and his staff being present.

His Royal Highness, who was attired in a grey suit and wore a grey topee appeared much interested in the scene, and the Princess smiled sweetly at the applauding crowd. She was dressed in white, with pink facings to her bodice, and wore a pretty pink feather in her toque. Behind Their Royal Highnesses a handsome gold and brocade punkah was waved and when the equipage pulled up, the unveiling of the marble inscription was quickly proceeded with.

The arrangements for the ceremony were made by the Hon'ble Mr. G. O. W. Dunn, assisted by Mr Shilstone, the Secretary of the Trust, and Mr. H. V. R. Kemball, the Engineer of the Trust. On the Royal carriage stopping near the marble tablet H. E. the Governor presented the Hon'ble Mr. Dunn to the Princess and Princess who cordially shook hands with him. Mr. Dunn then presented the members of the City Improvement Trust, with the exception of Sir Bhalchandra Krishna (who was absent,) and Mr. H. V. R. Kemball the Engineer to the Trust. The Hon. Mr. Dunn in addressing the Prince and Princess, said: "May it please Your Royal Highnesses,—In the name of the City Improvement Trust and of the Municipal Corporation I beg that Your Royal Highnesses will be graciously pleased to grant special permission for this street to be called "Princess Street" in commemoration of this visit of Your Royal Highnesses to the City of Bombay, and as a permanent memorial of the first Princess of Wales to set foot in India: and I request that her Royal Highness will honour us by unveiling the name of the Street."

The tablet, which had been erected by Mr. Jost was provided with a silver electric button, which was handed to the Princess who, by touching the button, unveiled the tablet. A handsome basket of flowers and ferns had been provided, which the Hon'ble Mr. Dunn had the gratification of presenting to the Princess, who graciously accepted it. As the carriage was about to drive away Dr. N. H. Sukhia a member of the Bombay Corporation, called for three cheers for Their Royal Highnesses which were lustily accorded and these were followed by cheers for the King-Emperor, which were equally vociferously given. The Royal carriage then drove away, H. E. the Governor, with Lady Amphthill, wife of H. E. the Governor of Madras, following in another carriage.

The Royal procession was made to halt at Chinch Bunder Road and Kamaria Ismail Kasum J. P the representative of H. H. the Aga Khan, presented bouquets to T. R. H. the Prince and Princess of Wales and rendered the best wishes and greetings of the followers of H. H. the Agakhan. The Prince and Princess expressed their thanks to be conveyed to H. The Prince and Princess remained seated in their carriage, while the two Head Parsee Priests Dastur Dorab Peshotan Sanjana and Dastur Kaikhshru Jamaspji Jamasp Asana recited prayers in the Zand Avesta. They were assisted in the work by the head Dasturs of Surat, Poona and Nanowli. There were present at the time near the Royal carriage Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, the head of the Parsee community, Mr. M. M. Wadia, the Hon Khan Bahadur Darabsha Rattanji Chichgar and a few other prominent citizens, After the prayers of "Tan-Darosti" the prayers for longevity and prosperity, the Prince and the Princess thanked the high priests and before they departed, Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy garlanded them with wreathes and bouquets. "In the name of Ahuramazda, the Most High and Omnipotent Lord of the Universe, we heartily welcome Your Royal Highnesses, our Revered Prince and Princess of Wales, to this sacred edif

LORD CURZON AND THE NATIONAL MAHOMEDAN ASSOCIATION.

The reply to the address sent by the National Mohamedan Association, Bombay Presidency, is sent by the Viceroy as follows addressed to Nawabzada Nasrullah Khan the Presidency through the Private Secretary :—

"Gentlemen" I have already written so many replies to addresses spontaneously presented to me by Mohammedan Associations in all parts of the country, many of which have been published, that not only do I experience some difficulty in varying the expression of my feelings, but I feel that you must already be thoroughly aware of their nature, and will not desire to impose upon me the reception of what I have so often said already

"I will therefore content myself with remarking that I am sincerely glad to have won the esteem and approval of the Mohamedan Community in India, that I have always regarded them, and shall continue to regard them, with profound interest and esteem, and that I have found them among the most loyal of the subjects of the Crown as well as prominent in good works and in the desire to raise their co-religionists in the world."

The night temperature has been 5° to 13° in excess in Sind, Rajputana, the Punjab and at Agra, Deesa, Bhavnagar, Parn, Neemuch and Saugor, and 5° in defect at Poona. The highest temperature in the shade was 99° at Deesa and the lowest 54° at Jubbulpore.

SIR M. M. BHOWNAGGREE AND BETHNAL GREEN-LIBEL ACTION.

When the General Election comes we shall all watch with interest the fight in North East Bethnel Green where the indefatigable sitting member Sir Muncherjee Bhownaggree will be opposed by the chairman of the London County Council, Sir E. A. Cornwall,—he received his Knighthood two days ago —who being very pushful will, perhaps, prove a stronger opponent than those previously defeated by the "Member for India." When Sir Muncherjee went down to Bethnal Green the other day to give an account of his stewardship, his chairman admitted that some Unionists appeared to be dowhearted at the position of their party. He added, however, that personally he was full of confidence that they would win at the next election. I suppose he meant that the Conservatives will win on Bethnal Green, if he referred to the electorate generally, all I can say is that he is an extraordinarily sanguine man. Sir Muncherjee's speech showed no signs of pessimism and as a good party man he maintained that "on the whole" the present Government has discharged its duties in a way that ought to meet with the approval of the country. Supposing, even, that the Radicals secured a majority at the next election, they would not be able to maintain their existence without the material help of the Irish party, who would at once demand Home Rule, and on this question the leaders of the Radical party were divided in opinion. They were disunited, too, on many other matters of importance. That cannot be gainsaid, but the Liberal party never was and never can be as homogeneous as its rival; and is Sir Muncherjee quite sure that the next Government will not be able to remain in Office without the votes of the Nationalists? After recent by-elections, not excluding Hampstead, where the Liberals, although they have failed in their attempt to capture the seat, have done infinitely better than would have been thought possible a year or two ago, it does not seem absolutely certain that Lord Rosebery's dream of a majority independent of Mr. Redmond and his friends will not be realised. In that case, other people may want the assistance of the Irish party and perhaps be willing to pay for it, who knows? At the meeting I have referred to, an elector asked Sir Muncherjee if "he had anything to say with regard to the libellous statements made about him in certain Radical Journals." He replied :—"If I had my own choice I should like to make a statement upon the matter. There are grave allegations made against me, and if they were true I would not be fit to associate with respectable gentlemen, much less to be entrusted with any public position; but, as you may be aware, the matter now forms the subject of an action at law. All I can say, therefore, is that the allegations of dishonesty made against me are entirely untrue, and that those who have made them have stated that they are very sorry that they made them, and that they apologise. But with that apology I am not satisfied. I consider the statements too grave to be made in respect of any individual, and very serious and damaging in their character when made upon the eve, practically, of a General Election. I cannot think that the mere insertion of a small paragraph of apology could in any way undo the great mischief the publication of these allegations has done; but you will understand that I am precluded from making any statement on account of the subject being matter of an action-at-law—practically 'sub judice.' I beg you will therefore bear with me for some time until the result of the steps I have taken is known; but as, meanwhile, we must carry on business and must meet one another, I feel bound to tell you this—that there is no foundation in the allegation of dishonesty and other injurious statements made in the articles in the Radical papers to which the questioner alluded."

Sir Muncherjee's statement that legal proceedings are pending was loudly cheered.

MEDICAL MISSION HOSPITAL.

I once had the pleasure of accompanying a New York lady to the East End of London and she was loud in her praises of all the benevolent institutions existing in that somewhat dreary quarter of this overgrown city. In this respect, she said London was far ahead of New York. One of the most useful institutions at the East End is the new Medical Mission Hospital which has been erected in connection with the Mansfield House Women's Settlement, Canning Town, and which in the absence through indisposition of Princess Louise Duchess of Argyll was formally opened a few days ago by the Countess of Aberdeen. It may interest many of your Bombay readers to know the senior resident doctor of the Medical Mission is Miss Lilian G. Simpson, M.D. daughter of Lieutenant-Colonel R. Salisbury Simp, son, formerly of the Marine Battalion.

THE SITUATION IN EUROPE.

MEETINGS AND VIOLENT SPEECHES.

Mounted troops are patrolling the streets of St. Petersburg. Meetings of students, workmen and other classes of society daily become more frequent. These meetings which are generally held in the higher educational institutions and the premises of factories, are characterised by unusual license, the most violent and revolutionary speeches being made. This is due to the police who have generally assumed a passive attitude, refraining from attending meetings.

The first sitting of the Railway Delegates' Congress was opened by the reading of a paper regarding the professional needs and rights of railway men drawn up by the Congress. It was proposed that a copy of the paper, which deals with questions of great importance, such as that of a constituent assembly, should be sent to Count Witte. There was great excitement in the Congress room when the deputation sent to Count Witte returned at seven o'clock. One of the delegates said that the deputation was immediately shown into the Count's study. He began by stating that this interview must be of a strictly non-official character, the President of the Committee of Ministers not having the power to accept addresses, but he had no objection to an account of the interview being published.

Count Witte remarked that the memoir contained a number of demands which could be realised in no country. There were also a number of demands worthy of attention. He first spoke against a constituent assembly, which he said, was at present impossible. He repeated this several times, explaining that universal suffrage gave pre-eminence to the rich classes, who could influence votes, and was therefore far from perfection. The idea of universal suffrage was evidently inspired, and was not an essential demand of the railway employes. He stated that the liberty of the Press and of meeting would be granted very shortly. He was surprised to learn that martial law had not yet been abolished on the railways, and said it was a misunderstanding which would be removed shortly. Count Witte continued :—"I am the adversary of all persecution and bloodshed and the partisan of the greatest amount of liberty. But it is impossible to prophesy how the strike will be terminated. I shall confer with Prince Khilkoff, and will do what I can. My opinion is that you must stop the strike and then elaborate pacific conditions." One of the delegates reported that Count Witte, on being told that the Congress approved his acts regarding the Reform Commission and pensions, expressed the hope that the Congress would become a permanent institution. The Conference subsequently adjourned in corpore to a meeting at the University.

ALARM IN ST. PETERSBURG.

The latest progress of the movement is shown in the following telegrams :—

St. Petersburg, Oct. 25 ("Times").—The people of St. Petersburg are becoming panic stricken, fearing the downfall of the Government and the proclamation of mob rule. The city wears a deserted appearance. The editors of the Liberal papers have decided, in consequence of the arbitrary treatment of the "Nasha Zhizn, to boycott the censorship and to defy the Government. South Russia is in open revolt. The workmen have erected fortifications and wire entanglements.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 25 ("Reuter's").—There is no milk to be obtained in Moscow, even for young children and the prices asked for meat and butter are exorbitant.

The Ministers held a Council at the Imperial Palace at Peterhof to-day to discuss the situation. Owing to the interruption of all railway communication between Peterhof and St. Petersburg they had to return hither by water, the imperial yacht Pole Star being placed at their disposal. They met in Council again this evening in St. Petersburg, under the Presidency of Count Solsky, to decide what measures shall be taken to deal with the difficulties created by the strike.

Immense meetings attended by students, workmen and others were held this evening at the University. Revolutionary speeches were made calling upon the people to begin an armed rising.

THE city of Marseilles is taking energatic action to protect herself against the disaster threatened to her commerce and shipping by the piercing of the Simplon. Extensive measures are being organised, which will virtually revolutionise the express train services at present existing. Fast trains between Geneva and Marseilles, via Valence, will leave no advantage in the matter of speed to Milan and Genoa. There are also to be fast trains de luxe between Nice and Berlin, via Frankfort, Lyons, and Marseilles, which will henceforward be the terminal of these Riviera continental expresses. At the same time, underground connections are to be made in Paris, which will greatly enhance the speed of travelling to and fro between the capital and the Riviera.

"Grateful Results"
A life of suffering and misery, without sleep, without appetite. Restored to health by Ayer's Sarsaparilla
"I was grievously afflicted with biliousness and liver complaint. My mouth was in a terrible condition every morning, my tongue thickly coated, my breath was offensive, food distressed me, I suffered much from headache, my skin was sallow, and the many remedies recommended me did no good. At last I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and my improvement began almost from the first dose. It relieved the distress about my liver, caused my food to digest well, cured my headache, improved my complexion, and restored my appetite. These unlooked-for but grateful results were accomplished by only two and a half bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—MRS. LYDIA M. TARBOX, Altoona, Pa.
There are many imitation Sarsaparillas.
Be sure you get "AYER'S."

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

LONDON, Oct. 27.

LIFE REDEEMED.

If the English papers containing an account of the efforts to gain a reprieve for the aged woman sentenced to death for the murder of her husband, in company with whom she endeavoured to commit suicide, should reach the hand of the King of the Belgians he will be reminded of a pathetic story in which his father played a part. The Princess Charlotte of Wales obtained the reprieve of a poor seamstress who had been sentenced to death for some trifling felony. A year after her release the woman called at Claremont to present as a thank-offering a wreath of flowers. And thereafter, on the anniversary of the Princess's death she would send a similar emblem to the present King Leopold's mother. The latter once took his second wife to see the poor creature whom his first wife had rescued from the executioner, and when the woman died, he had her buried at his own expense. To the last he preserved the otterings, which she had made in testimony of her thankfulness.

POINTS OF VIEW.

It was Lord Liverpool, of course, through whose instrumentality the Princess obtained the convict's pardon. He was not always so ready in this direction George the Third, though a humane man, did not like to interfere with the course of justice; while the members of his Council did not oppose him. One day, however, when a man was to be hanged for the murder of his wife, Lord Liverpool hesitated, and seemed disinclined to assent. As they left the room together, one of his colleagues asked him why this was. "Why," he said, "poor man, those women are sad—d provoking." Lord Liverpool, had he been known to entertain such an opinion, would never have had the consent of any jury of matrons to his having the moulding of the young Queen Victoria's mind.

A FALL WITH TIME.

The reopening of the wrestling season in London has served to bring out any new champion of the art in which Britons anciently excelled. The prize still lies, apparently, between a Turk and a Russian time, indeed, does bring changes. It was true when they inscribed upon the tombstone of Sir Thomas Parkyns,—

"Here lies O time, the victim of thy hand,
The noblest boxer on the English strand,
His nervous arm each bold opposer quelled,
In feats of strength by none but thee excelled;
Till, springing up, at the last trumpet's call,
He conquers thee, who will have conquered all."

England had wrestlers in this day, and he, by instructing all his readers in the art contributed, in no small measure, to the efficiency of the school. But now the lion is beardless in his own den.

BIDDING FOR A BRIDE.

Pennsylvania is not the only place in the world where they still "bid" in connection with a wedding. They do it in Wales, but there the bidding is of another character; it is the old-fashioned bidding to the wedding. In a quaintly formal letter, the parents of the bride bid their friends attend the wedding, and bid them also not come empty-handed. "Whatever donation you may be pleased to bestow will be thankfully received and cheerfully repaid whenever called for on a similar occasion. The parents of the bride and bridegroom elect desire that all gifts due to them will be returned to them on the above date, and will be thankful for all favours granted." Who, in fact of this, shall say that the Welsh are too inclined to romance for business?

HEROES AND NO HEROES.

If it be true that no man is a hero to his valet, it is equally the fact that greatness does not impress the other humble dependents of the notable. Darwin's gardener thought his master would be all right if he had only got something to do. Huxley's man assured a sympathiser that he required no help in the garden as Mr. Huxley is very near as good as another man. We need not be surprised, then, that Nelson's valet did not stand in awe of the man who gave as the sovereignty of the seas. He had been everywhere with Nelson until the time of Trafalgar. On this occasion, however, he was detained in London too long to go to sea with Nelson. And afterwards he used to say, "if I had been there Lord Nelson would not have been killed for he should never have put on that coat. He would mind me like a child; and when I found him bent on wearing his finery before a battle, I always prevented him. Tom, he would say, I'll fight this battle in my best coat. Oh, no my lord, you shaunt. But why Tom? Why, my lord? You just light the battlefire, and then I'll dress you up to all your stars and garters, and you'll look something like." And there is reason to believe that brave, loyal old Tom spoke the truth.

FIGHTING PREJUDICE.

Less than a quarter of a century ago, Sir William Harcourt, as Home Secretary, refused to permit human bodies to be cremated, and called upon the Cremation Society to cease operations. How rapidly the world has moved since then! Although it is but three years ago that local authorities were permitted by Act of Parliament to establish crematoria, the list of notable persons who have been cremated is a striking one and now at last we have the seal of the established Church set upon the reform by the burial of Sir Henry Irving's remains, after cremation, in the Abbey. As was suggested in this column when the difficulty of finding space in the Abbey for our illustrious dead so occupied public attention, we were bound to come to this. The body of an adult can be reduced to four pounds weight of ashes, and the urn in which these are contained require even less space than Ben Jonson begged of his sovereign.

THE ILLUSTRIOUS DEAD.

There are many crematoria in course of construction. We have them already at Woking Golder's Green, Hendon, Manchester, Liverpool, Hull, Birmingham, Darlington, and elsewhere, and they have been instituted in every other European country and in America. The Roman Catholic Church has submitted to the inevitable, and there is now a crematorium actually in Rome. The list of some of the notabilities who have been cremated is interesting Sir Tindal Robertson M. P., Baron Huddleston, A. W. Kinglake, the Duke of Bedford Lord, Bramwell, Sir Samuel Baker, Sir A. H. Layard Sequnk, Du Maurier, Dr. G. Harley, Sir B. W. Ward Richardson, Mathilde Blind, Sir Isaac Pitman, Sir Spencer Wells, Countess of Bedford, Countess Russell, Lord Sackville Cecil, Sir E. Burne Jones Sir W. Flower, Lord Farrer, Grant Allen, Sims Reeves, Duke of Westminster, Rev. H. R. Hawels, Kate Greenaway, W. E. Henley, Countess of Galloway, Quintin Hogg, Rev. N. M. Ferrers, D. D. Lord Edward Manners, Mr., Forrest Browne (wife of the Bishop of Bristol), B. L. Farjeon, W. E. H. Lecky, Herbert Spencer, and Antoinette Sterling.

FAMOUS CHEQUES.

The cheque for £50,000, which is said to have been stolen, must be among the most valuable to figure in the "lost" column. It is, of course, by no means the largest ever drawn. Popular report has it that a six-figure cheque drawn by a London firm of tea merchants eclipsed record again. Mr. Pierpont Morgan was said to have topped the mark with one for £4,500,000. Thus in turn was bettered by one bearing Mr. Carnegie's signature and worth £4,600,000 paid. But these fall far short of record. The original of the most valuable cheque ever drawn remains to-day at the Bank of England. It was drawn May 7, 1898, payable to the Japanese Minister in London, was the final instalment of the Chinese indemnity, and was for £11,008 857 10s. 9d.

EMANCIPATION.

There is another interesting piece of paper in the same repository. It is that which, on July 18, 1889 paid for the De Beers diamond mines, and is for £5,338, 650. Mr. Hooley used to put some big figures over his name; one of his cheques was for three millions for the Dunlop Company, another for two millions in connection with Bovril. One of the most interesting of cheques, however, was one which was never paid. It was handed to Greville clerk to the Privy Council, by Lord Clarendon, upon becoming a Privy Councillor and intended as payment of the fees which he supposed to be due from him. You are a good fellow said the diarist. You have no idea of the trouble, I have to get them from some people you know I have no right of recovery. Oh, haven't you said Clarendon, and pitched his cheque into the fire and from that date it is said no P. C. has been called upon to pay fees on joining the Council.

THRILLING MEMORIES.

If we in the United Kingdom possessed a population of something like four hundred millions, and India had tenth of that number if we were governed by an Indian Viceroy, and were now looking for a visit from the son of a King of India, Emperor of Great Britain, the picture presented to our minds from the other end of the telescope, as it were, would assume vastly different proportions. But there is no doubt that the voyage upon which the Prince and Princess have now embarked is regarded throughout the length and breadth of our Indian Empire as the highest honour and compliment which could be paid short of the King's again going. The most thrilling recollections of his Majesty are those of that visit, when the princes said to him: "From now and for ever we are yours—our men, our money our lives."

THE KING'S KINGS.

The circumstances under which the Prince will arrive differ from those which obtained when his father set foot on soil. Queen Victoria had not yet been proclaimed Empress. Since then the bond of union has been more closely woven, and the Prince will be welcomed the more in that he is the son of that Emperor whom, as the Shahzada a rejoicing jubilant India welcomed. The only difficulty which will present itself to the Prince will to the repetition of that with which the King was beset: the princes and their peoples want to do too much. When the Maharajah presented the King with a sword, jewelled with £12,000 worth of jewels, he said, "If it be the Prince's will to test it, here is my neck!" The King's presents represented half a million sterling; the Prince will have a hard task in preventing the native princes from emulating the lavish generosity which marked the former visit—albeit a special instruction limits the value of the gifts to be exchanged.

Worry and Anxiety

almost inevitably lead to a weakened and impoverished condition of the nervous systems These are forms of mental and nervous fatigue, and indicate that the nervous system is unequal to the demands made upon it by business responsibilities, social obligations, or professional duties. Such feelings give urgent and emphatic warning that the entire nervous system has become enfeebled, either as a consequence of nervous overstrain or owing to imperfect nutrition, resulting from physical illness or disorder.

Nervous Debility

of which worry and anxiety are such distressing symptoms, demands special treatment the nature of which is easily understood. If the body be weak it shows that fitting nourishment is required, and the same is equally true if the nervous system be weakened. It needs proper nutrition.

But how seldom the exhausted nervous system receives the right treatment. In many cases stimulants are resorted to, which give merely fictitious and temporary strength to the nerves, but actually leave them more weakened and worn out than before. If the nervous system be exhausted it really requires a remedy that will assist the nervous system to assimilate nourishment from the ordinary food, and will at the same time supply the vital nerve elements which are lost under the strain of overwork. Such a remedy is found in

Bishop's Tonules

A Nerve Nutrient not a Stimulant.

Bishop's Tonules are a thoroughly scientific preparation, free from harmful drugs and act directly upon the nerves, improving their nutrition, building up the worn away tissues, and restoring the impoverished nervous system to full health and vigour.

To understand how and why Bishop's Tonules do this it must be borne in mind that in nervous disorders generally the nerve and brain substance is worn away faster than it can be replaced. The nerves also lack the power to extract from the food taken the elements which they have lost, and until they can do this there can be no improvement in their exhausted condition.

The principal of these nervous disorders are as follows: Nervous and General Debility or Impaired Vitality, indicated by Lassitude, Fatigue, Want of Mental and Physical Energy, Weakened Will Power, Inability for Sustained Mental Effort, Irritability and Brain Fag, Nervous Exhaustion, Indecision and Lack of Confidence and "Pluck," Mental Depression, Worry and Anxiety, Forebodings, Morbidity and Melancholy, Neurasthenia, or a worn-out condition of the Nervous System generally, characterised by Headache, Vertigo, Muscular and Nervous Prostration, and Diminished Mental Powers.

There is no pretence that Bishop's Tonules do anything magical or extraordinary They simply supply those elements that are lacking, and supply them in such a form that they can be taken up easily and naturally by the nerves. Hence it is only reasonable to expect nerve restoration where they are used.

Obviously this takes time, just as an ill-nourished body cannot be built up in a day; but the result of a continued course of treatment by Bishop's Tonules will be the restoration of the nervous system to perfect health and strength.

The effects of the Tonule treatment may not be apparent immediately, but after a short time there is an improvement in the appetite, the assimilation of food is promoted, the liver stimulated, and the flow of bile increased. The various organs of the body all show improved activity and the building up of the tissues is hastened. The eyes grow brighter and the complexion more healthy. There is a tendency for thin subjects to gain flesh, while soft and flabby flesh becomes firm. In addition to all these evidences of the power of Bishop's Tonules, the symptoms of nervous debility and exhaustion gradually disappear, and it is only a question of time as to how long it will take for the whole nervous system to be restored to full strength.

Bishop's Tonules

A Fortnight's Treatment 2/9.

A letter has just been received from a gentleman in Hampshire in the following terms:—"I have now gone through a fortnight's course of Bishop's Tonules with great benefit. I was suffering from nevousness and depression, and these have almost disappeared, especially the latter. I took one Tonule with each of my three meals."

Bishop's Tonules are supplied in vials containing a fortnight's treatment, made by Alfred Bishop (Limited), Spelman-street, Mile End New Town, London, supplies may be obtained from your chemist or drug store for 2s. 9d. Alfred Bishop (Limited) are Manufacturing Chemists only, and have but one address.

There are two points we wish specially to emphasise. One is that it is supremely unwise to delay commencing the treatment with Bishop's Tonules if you recognise that you are suffering from nervous overstrain or nervous or brain exhaustion. Your condition will become worse, and you may have a serious breakdown as a result of your neglect. The other point is that Alfred Bishop are always pleased to give further information to any requiring it.

A SOLVED QUESTION.

THE QUESTION now-a-days among Smokers is, Why should Vafiadis' Cigarettes be s largely distributed ?

The answer is not far to seek.

It is because Vafiadis having had a life-long experience in Tobacco knows what is suitable for this peculiar climate of India, and it also is because their only intention is to satisfy their thousands of Customers by guaranteeing a new consignment of their Cigarettes every fourteen days.

To th above facts it is due that their Cigarettes are so highly praised and smoked by the throng, and are pronounced by connoisseurs to be superior to all others.

Liqueur Exquisite, Tonic, Digestive and Efficacious

BENEDICTINE

Possessing most Powerful Germ-killing Properties.

The BENEDICTINE liqueur is beneficial to health owing to its spirituous foundation being composed only of eau-de-vie (brandies) of the very purest quality.

Its principal characteristics may be summed up as follows :—

Distinctness of taste, richness of flavour and a delicious bouquet improving with age.

Moreover, the fact has never been disputed, that when diluted with cold water, the liqueur is possessed of great ANTIAPOPLECTIC (against apoplexy, sudden loss of sense and voluntary motions), APERIENT (slow purgative), DIGESTIVE and ANTISPASMODIC (against convulsions, qualities). REFRESHES and STRENGTHENS the nervous and tired brain marvellously, and works as a perfect boon to invalids and a blessing combined with luxury to mankind.

Many celebrated doctors and literary men both in France and other countries have given he liqueur the brilliant testimony of their appreciation, as may be seen by the following letters :—

* * * * Those of my readers who have confidence in my culinary recommendations, and I trust they are many, will do well to note that I prefer BENEDICTINE to all other liqueurs.

ALEXANDER DUMAS.

* * * * * At a time when the luxuries of the table are sought after on all sides, I do not hesitate to acknowledge and recommend BENEDICTINE as the queen of liqueurs, now to be seen on any table. It is found and appreciated alike in restaurants, in private families, and on the tables of princes.

H. DE PENE.

* * * * * We place BENEDICTINE upon our tables for its excellent flavour and delicate perfume, without thinking that this dainty is a powerful specific, a liqueur most efficacious for promoting digestion and the regular circulation of the blood.

TIMOTHEE TRIMM.

LIQUEUR BENEDICTINE.—Among the liqueurs invented or manufactured by the monks of France, the Benedictine from a hygienic point of view occupies the foremost rank. It is not only an exquisite and savory beverage for persons in good health, but in cases of illness or recovery it is equally beneficial. It may be used to advantage in all cases where Malaga, Madeira, Sherry, &c., are recommended.

The Benedictine is remarkable for its agreeable taste, and for its really salutary effects as a stomachic; and it is principally on this account that the liqueur should bear the motto "Moritur qui non utitur."

Extract from the "Gazette Medicale."

After meals we know of nothing more agreeable than a small glass or two of BENEDICTINE. It perfumes the breath, delights the palate, promotes digestion, and is a powerful aid to an inactive or overloaded stomach. During an epidemic, and for combating the evil effects of an impure atmosphere, its curative action is indisputable. At the beginning of last autumn we had occasion to appreciate the full value of this liqueur, and we are now happy to give it our highest praise.

DR. MALLET, M.D.

We place all our confidence in the hygienic properties of BENEDICTINE. Invalids and those who suffer from diseases of the respiratory organs, affections of the chests, headaches, congestion of brain, etc., and who cannot take other liqueurs, can safely make BENEDICTINE their favourite drink as a finish to their meals.

DR. ACHILLE PEQUEUR, M.D.

I consider your excellent liqueur invaluable to the old who so frequently suffer from indigestion and attacks of biliousness which often prove fatal. BENEDICTINE has long been well known to me, and it was with great readiness that I ordered our religious and my head resident doctor to administer it as a cordial according to your directions.

Chief Physician & House Surgeon, Charitable Hospital of Marseilles.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

DR. PROSSER JAMES,
Lecturer on Materia Medica, London Hospital.

"Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL contains the whole of the active ingredients of the remedy, and is easily digested. Hence its value, not only in Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, but in a great number of cases to which the Profession is extending its use."

DR. SAUNDERS, C.B.,
Late Deputy-Inspector-General Army Hospitals, Superintendent London Medical Mission.

"I have used Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL extensively among the sick poor of St. Giles's, and consider it a valuable remedy, especially in the Wasting Diseases of Children."

DR. HUNTER SEMPLE,
Physician to the Hospital for Diseases of the Throat and Chest, London.

"I have long been aware of the great reputation enjoyed by the LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL introduced into medical practice by Dr. DE JONGH, and have recommended it with the utmost confidence. I have no hesitation in stating my opinion, that it possesses all the qualities of a good and efficient medicine. Its taste is by no means disagreeable, and might even be called pleasant. I have found Dr. DE JONGH'S OIL very useful in cases of Chronic Cough, and especially in Laryngeal Disease complicated with Consumption."

DR. WHITMORE,
Medical Officer of Health, St. Marylebone, London.

"My own somewhat lengthened experience as a Medical Practitioner enables me with confidence to recommend Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT BROWN COD LIVER OIL as being more uniform in quality, more certain in its effects, more palatable, and infinitely less likely to disagree with the stomach than the Pale Oil. If I were asked for an explanation of the marked success which for so many years has attended the administration of Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL, I should say that it is owing to its extraordinary medicinal, dietetic, and reginimal properties, and which are found to exist in no other medicine that I am acquainted with, in such uniform combination."

Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is supplied ONLY in IMPERIAL Half-Pints, Pints and Quarts, sealed with BETTS' Patent Capsule impressed on the top with Dr. DE JONGH'S Stamp, and on the side with his Signature, and the Signature of ANSAR, HARFORD & Co.; and bearing under the wrapper a Label with the same Stamp and Signatures.
